Wife Refused Other Woman's Offer to Share in His Affections

ACCEPTS SPURNED MILLION

Special Disputch to Evening Public Ledger Boston, Jan. 23 .- Philip Wrenn, Boston broker, declared today that his daughter, Mrs. Mary W. Garland, now at Dedham, would never return to her husband, Charles Garland, who recently decided to accept his share of his father's $6,000,000 fortune after steadfast refusal for more than a year.

The reason given is Garland's alleged infatuation for Lillian Conrad, a former secretary of Garland's mother. At present Charles Garland and Lil-lian Conrad are reported living in dilapidated old farmhouse in North Carver, where formerly Joe April live with so many children that some of them had to sleep in the hen-coops. Garland declares that great men and women have many loves, and thinks he could share his affection with eighteen or twenty women. He confesses that his wife does not share his extraordinary ideas, and refused to go with him and Miss Conrad to live in North Carver.
